

The German Rowing Federation (Deutscher Ruderverband e. V.), based in Hanover, is looking for a board member for high performance sports (m/f/d)

We are looking for a person with strong communication skills and team-oriented personality with a university degree, professional experience and strong top-level sports skills.

PROFILE:

The board member for high performance sports is a member of the Executive Board of the German Rowing Federation (§26 BGB / German Civil Code) and is responsible for the high performance sports division.

You should bring:

- a completed university degree or comparable education
- experience and knowledge in association work, especially in elite sport
- In-depth knowledge of funding law and fundraising for elite sport
- management experience
- experience in project management, organization and administration
- contacts in organized elite sports and sports-related institutions (national and international)
- structured, solution-orientated, responsible and cooperative way of working
- initiative, creativity, ability to work in a team, confident demeanor and above-average commitment even outside normal working hours
- foreign language skills, both written and spoken

TASKS

- head of the high performance sports division and strategy development for all competitive rowing in Germany
- personnel responsibility for the national coaches and high performance sports officers
- budget responsibility for the high performance sports budget
- networking, support and management of initiatives at (inter)national level
- member and participation in competitive sports committees of national and international associations and elite sports organizations
- management and coordination of elite sport development with the creation of concepts for the promotion of competitive sport in the association (including structural planning, target agreements, controlling federal bases)
- implementation and processing of all administrative transactions related to the German Rowing Federation's elite sport operations
- participation and support in organisational and marketing tasks of national teams and sporting events
- cooperation with the voluntary committees of the German Rowing Federation
- representation of the German Rowing Federation towards politics and national/international top sports organizations in the field of competitive sports
- main contacts: World Rowing, European Rowing, DOSB, BMI, Sporthilfe, Bundeswehr etc.
- responsibility for the structural development of competitive sports (including regional target agreement discussions)

Please send your detailed application documents including your salary expectations exclusively online by September 15, 2024 to moritz.petri@rudern.de (Moritz Petri, President of the German Rowing Federation).